EXPLANATORY MEMORANDUM

Introduction
This memorandum provides background to proposed International Standard on Auditing (ISA) 800 (Revised and Redrafted), “Special Considerations—Audits of Special Purpose Financial Statements and Specific Elements, Accounts or Items of a Financial Statement.” The proposed ISA has been redrafted in accordance with conventions agreed by the International Auditing and Assurance Standards Board (IAASB) to be applied to all ISAs. The IAASB approved the proposed redrafted ISA for exposure in July 2007.

Background
In June 2005, the IAASB issued an exposure draft of proposed ISA 701, “The Independent Auditor’s Report on Other Historical Financial Information.” The comment period closed on October 31, 2005. The IAASB gave due consideration to the comments received on the proposed ISA.

The IAASB also agreed to renumber and title the ISA as ISA 800 (Revised), “Special Considerations—Audits of Special Purpose Financial Statements and Specific Elements, Accounts or Items of a Financial Statement.”

In October 2006, the IAASB approved a “close off” document of ISA 800 (Revised) in the “old style” (i.e., following the IAASB’s current drafting conventions). The close off document incorporates the changes based on the comments received on the June 2005 exposure draft, and forms the basis for the proposed redrafted ISA.

The Basis for Conclusions: ISA 800 (Revised) and related close off document are available on the IAASB website at http://www.ifac.org/Guidance/EXD-Details.php?EDID=0093. They are referenced here for information purposes only and do not form part of the exposure draft.

The conventions used by the IAASB in redrafting the close off document of ISA 800 (Revised), and the authority and obligation attaching to those conventions, are established in proposed ISA 200 (Revised and Redrafted), “Overall Objective of the Independent Auditor, and the Conduct of an Audit in Accordance with International Standards on Auditing” approved by the IAASB as an exposure draft in April 2007, and in the amended “Preface to the International Standards on Quality Control, Auditing, Review, Other Assurance and Related Services”¹ (Preface) approved by the IAASB in September 2006.

Effective Date
The current timetable envisages that all ISAs will have been revised and redrafted, or redrafted only, by late 2008 and the IAASB has provisionally agreed that the complete set of ISAs will be effective for audits of financial statements for periods beginning on or after December 15, 2008.

This date will depend on satisfactory progress being made, and will be amended to a later date should that prove necessary. The IAASB believes that it is in the interests of auditors and others who use the ISAs that the ISAs should be released as soon as they are approved so as to facilitate their implementation.

Guide for Respondents

The IAASB is seeking comments only on changes resulting from applying the clarity drafting conventions and their effect on the content of the close off document of ISA 800 (Revised). Respondents are asked to respond in particular to the following questions:

1. Is the objective to be achieved by the auditor, stated in the proposed redrafted ISA, appropriate?

2. Have the criteria identified by the IAASB for determining whether a requirement should be specified been applied appropriately and consistently, such that the resulting requirements promote consistency in performance and reporting, and the use of professional judgment by auditors?2

Recognizing that the final ISA will apply to audits of all sizes and in all sectors of the economy, the IAASB is also interested in comments on matters set out below.

- Special Considerations in the Audit of Small Entities—Respondents are asked to comment whether, in their opinion, considerations in the audit of small entities have been dealt with appropriately in the proposed redrafted ISA.

- Special Considerations in the Audit of Public Sector Entities—Respondents are asked to comment whether, in their opinion, special considerations in the audit of public sector entities have been dealt with appropriately in the proposed redrafted ISA.

- Developing Nations—Recognizing that many developing nations have adopted or are in the process of adopting the ISAs, the IAASB invites respondents from these nations to comment, in particular, on any foreseeable difficulties in applying the proposed redrafted ISA in a developing nation environment.

- Translations—Recognizing that many respondents intend to translate the final ISA for adoption in their own environments, the IAASB welcomes comment on potential translation issues noted in reviewing the proposed redrafted ISA.

2 The IAASB has identified the following criteria for determining the requirements of a Standard:

- The requirement is necessary to achieve the objective stated in the Standard;
- The requirement is expected to be applicable in virtually all engagements to which the Standard is relevant; and
- The objective stated in the Standard is unlikely to have been met by the requirements of other Standards.

In determining the requirements of a Standard, the IAASB will consider whether the requirements are proportionate to the importance of the subject matter of the Standard in relation to the overall objective of the engagement.

The criteria, which are intended only to assist the IAASB in appropriately and consistently determining requirements, may be refined as further experience is gained.
Comments are most helpful when they refer to specific paragraphs, include the reasons for the comments and, where appropriate, make specific suggestions for any proposed changes to wording. When a respondent agrees with proposals in the exposure draft, it will be helpful for the IAASB to be made aware of this view.

Respondents are also invited to comment on any undue costs, set against the benefits of more consistent auditor performance, arising from the fact that the proposed redrafted ISA includes requirements that would previously have been guidance under the old drafting conventions, as in the close off document of ISA 800 (Revised) (see below). In commenting on this matter, respondents should bear in mind the criteria that the IAASB has applied in redrafting the proposed ISA (see footnote 2) and the fact that the IAASB is seeking to clarify that there was some guidance in extant ISAs that was more in the nature of requirements and would already have been followed by many auditors.

Supplement to the Exposure Draft

To assist respondents in tracking changes, IAASB staff has prepared an analysis of the decisions that have been made by the IAASB with respect to the treatment of the present tense in the explanatory paragraphs of the close off document of ISA 800 (Revised). This analysis also demonstrates how the material in the close off document has been reflected in the proposed redrafted ISA. In particular, the analysis:

- Identifies existing sentences in the present tense and whether they are now treated as a requirement or as application material;
- Maps the material of the close off document to the proposed redrafted ISA; and
- Identifies explanatory material that is proposed to be eliminated or repositioned as a result of redrafting.

These staff-prepared mapping documents are available on the IAASB website at http://www.ifac.org/Guidance/EXD-DDetails.php?EDID=0093. They are for information purposes only and do not form part of the exposure draft.

To be considered, responses should be emailed to Edcomments@ifac.org. They may also be faxed to +1-212-286-9570 or mailed to 545 Fifth Avenue, 14th Floor, New York, NY 10017, USA. They should be received by November 30, 2007.

International Standard on Auditing (ISA) 800 (Revised and Redrafted), “Special Considerations—Audits of Special Purpose Financial Statements and Specific Elements, Accounts or Items of a Financial Statement” should be read in conjunction with [proposed] ISA 200 (Revised and Redrafted), “Overall Objective of the Independent Auditor, and the Conduct of an Audit in Accordance with International Standards on Auditing.”
Introduction

Scope of this ISA

1. [Proposed] International Standard on Auditing (ISA) 200 (Revised and Redrafted), “Overall Objective of the Independent Auditor, and the Conduct of an Audit in Accordance with International Standards on Auditing” explains that the ISAs are written in the context of an audit of financial statements and are to be adapted as necessary in the circumstances when applied to audits of other historical financial information. This ISA deals with special considerations relevant to an audit of special purpose financial statements. It also deals with special considerations, including the adaptation of ISAs, relevant to an audit of a specific element, account or item of a financial statement. Examples of specific elements, accounts or items of a financial statement are listed in Appendix 1.

2. This ISA does not override the requirements of the other ISAs; nor does it purport to deal with all special considerations that may be relevant in the circumstances of the engagement.

3. This ISA does not apply to the report of a component auditor, issued as a result of work performed on the financial information of a component at the request of a group engagement team for purposes of an audit of group financial statements (see ISA 600 (Revised and Redrafted), “Special Considerations—Audits of Group Financial Statements (Including the Work of Component Auditors)”).

4. [Proposed] ISA 705 (Revised and Redrafted), “Modifications to the Opinion in the Independent Auditor’s Report” deals with circumstances that may result in a modified opinion, the type of modification required, and how the form and content of the auditor’s report is affected in such circumstances. [Proposed] ISA 706 (Revised and Redrafted), “Emphasis of Matter Paragraphs and Other Matter(s) Paragraphs in the Independent Auditor’s Report” deals with circumstances when the auditor considers including an Emphasis of Matter paragraph or an Other Matter(s) paragraph in the auditor’s report, and the form and placement of such paragraphs.

Effective Date

5. This ISA is effective for engagements for periods beginning on or after [date].¹

Objective

6. The objective of the auditor is to apply the ISAs by addressing the special considerations that are relevant to:

(a) The acceptance of an engagement to audit special purpose financial statements or a specific element, account or item of a financial statement; and

(b) The planning and performing of, and reporting on, that audit.

¹ This date will not be earlier than December 15, 2008.
Definitions

7. For purposes of the ISAs, the following terms have the meanings attributed below:

(a) Special purpose financial statements – Financial statements prepared in accordance with a special purpose framework. (Ref: Para. A2)

(b) Special purpose framework – A financial reporting framework designed to meet the financial information needs of specific users. (Ref: Para. A1-A2)

8. The term “financial statements” in this ISA can refer to a complete set of financial statements or a single financial statement, including related explanatory notes. The term “specific element(s), account(s) or item(s) of a financial statement” should be understood to include related explanatory notes.

Requirements

Audits of Special Purpose Financial Statements

Considerations when Determining the Acceptability of the Applicable Financial Reporting Framework

9. To determine the acceptability of the financial reporting framework, the auditor shall obtain an understanding of the following circumstances of the engagement: (Ref: Para. A3-A7)

(a) The purpose for which the financial statements are prepared;

(b) The intended users; and

(c) The steps taken by management to determine that the financial reporting framework is appropriate in the circumstances.

10. In the case of special purpose financial statements prepared in accordance with the provisions of a contract, the auditor shall also obtain an understanding of any significant interpretations of the contract that management made in preparing the financial information.

Considerations when Planning and Performing the Audit

11. The auditor shall determine whether application of the requirements of the relevant ISAs require special consideration in the circumstances of the engagement. (Ref: Para. A8-A11)

Forming an Opinion and Reporting Considerations

12. When forming an opinion and reporting on special purpose financial statements, the auditor shall apply the requirements in [proposed] ISA 700 (Redrafted), “The

2 The requirements of the applicable financial reporting framework determine the form and content of the financial statements and what constitutes a complete set of financial statements.

3 An interpretation is significant when adoption of another reasonable interpretation would have produced a material difference in the financial statements.
Independent Auditor’s Report on General Purpose Financial Statements.” Additional elements of the auditor’s report on special purpose financial statements are set out in paragraphs 13-14 of this ISA. (Ref: Para. A12)

Description of the Applicable Financial Reporting Framework

13. The reference to the applicable financial reporting framework in the statement of management’s responsibility in the auditor’s report on special purpose financial statements shall:

(a) Make clear the purpose for which the financial statements are prepared and, if necessary, the intended users, or refer to a note in the special purpose financial statements that contains that information; and

(b) When management has a choice of financial reporting frameworks in preparing and presenting such financial statements, make reference to management’s responsibility for determining that the applicable financial reporting framework is acceptable in the circumstances of the engagement.

Restriction on Use and Distribution

14. The auditor’s report on the special purpose financial statements shall include a statement that the financial statements are prepared in accordance with a special purpose framework and that, as a result, the financial statements and related auditor’s report may not be suitable for another purpose. The statement shall be included in a separate paragraph following the auditor’s opinion and under the heading Other Matter – Restriction on Use. (Ref: Para. A13-A14)

Audits of Specific Elements, Accounts or Items of a Financial Statement

Considerations when Accepting the Engagement

15. As required by [proposed] ISA 200 (Revised and Redrafted), the auditor applies all ISAs relevant to the audit of the specific element, account or item of a financial statement (referred to as “element” in paragraphs 16-19), irrespective of whether the auditor is also engaged to audit the entity’s financial statements. As the ISAs are written in the context of financial statements, all the ISAs relevant to the audit of the element shall be adapted as necessary in the circumstances of the engagement. (Ref: Para. A15-A17, A19-A22)

16. When the auditor is not also engaged to audit the entity’s financial statements, the auditor shall determine whether an audit of the element in accordance with ISAs is practicable. (Ref: Para. A18)

Reporting Considerations

17. When the auditor undertakes an engagement to report on an element in conjunction with an engagement to audit the entity’s financial statements, the auditor shall express a separate opinion for each engagement. (Ref: Para. A23)

18. When the entity intends to publish an audited element together with its audited financial statements, the entity’s presentation of the audited element should differentiate it sufficiently from the audited financial statements. The opinion on the element should also be differentiated sufficiently from the opinion on the financial statements. If the auditor concludes that the differentiation is insufficient, the auditor shall ask management to rectify the situation. The auditor shall not issue the auditor’s report on the element until satisfied with the differentiation.

19. When the opinion in the auditor’s report on an entity’s financial statements is modified or that report includes an Emphasis of Matter paragraph or an Other Matter(s) paragraph, the auditor shall determine the effect that this may have on the auditor’s report on an element. When deemed appropriate, the auditor shall modify the opinion in the auditor’s report on the element, or include an Emphasis of Matter paragraph or an Other Matter(s) paragraph in that report, accordingly. (Ref: Para. A24-A25)

Application and Other Explanatory Material

Audits of Special Purpose Financial Statements

Special Purpose Frameworks (Ref: Para. 7)

A1. Examples of special purpose frameworks are:

- A tax basis of accounting for a set of financial statements that accompany an entity’s tax return;
- The cash receipts and disbursements basis of accounting for cash flow information that an entity may be requested to prepare for creditors;
- The financial reporting provisions established by a regulator to meet that regulator’s requirements; or
- The financial reporting provisions of a contract, such as a bond indenture or a loan agreement.

A2. Financial statements prepared and presented in accordance with a special purpose framework may be the only financial statements an entity prepares. In such circumstances, those financial statements are often used by users other than those for whom the financial reporting framework is designed. Despite the broad distribution of the financial statements in those circumstances, the financial statements are still considered to be special purpose financial statements for purposes of the ISAs. The requirements in paragraphs 13-14 are designed to avoid misunderstandings about the purpose for which the financial statements are prepared.

Considerations when Determining the Acceptability of the Applicable Financial Reporting Framework (Ref: Para. 9)

A3. ISA 210, “Terms of Audit Engagements” requires the auditor to agree on and determine the acceptability of the applicable financial reporting framework. In the case of special purpose financial statements, the financial information needs of the intended users are a key factor in obtaining an understanding of the circumstances listed in paragraph 9(a)-(c).

A4. The applicable financial reporting framework may encompass the financial reporting standards established by an organization authorized or recognized to promulgate standards for special purpose financial statements. In that case, those standards will be presumed acceptable for that purpose if the organization follows an established and transparent process involving deliberation and consideration of the views of relevant stakeholders. In some jurisdictions, law or regulation may prescribe the financial reporting framework to be used by management in preparing and presenting special purpose financial statements for a certain type of entity. For example, a regulator may establish financial reporting provisions to meet its requirements. In the absence of indications to the contrary, such a financial reporting framework is presumed acceptable for special purpose financial statements prepared and presented by such entity.

A5. Where the financial reporting standards referred to in paragraph A4 are supplemented by legislative or regulatory requirements, ISA 210 requires the auditor to determine whether any conflicts between the financial reporting standards and the additional requirements exist, and prescribes actions to be taken by the auditor if such conflicts exist.

A6. The applicable financial reporting framework may encompass the financial reporting provisions of a contract, or sources other than those described in paragraphs A4 and A5. In that case, the acceptability of the financial reporting framework in the circumstances of the engagement is determined by considering whether the framework exhibits attributes normally exhibited by acceptable financial reporting frameworks as described in Appendix 2 of ISA 210. In the case of a special purpose framework, the relative importance to a particular engagement of each of the attributes normally exhibited by acceptable financial reporting frameworks is a matter of professional judgment. For example, for purposes of a balance sheet prepared to establish the value of net assets of an entity at the date of its sale, the vendor and the purchaser may have agreed to make very prudent estimates of allowances for uncollectible accounts receivable. This may result in financial information that is not neutral, but nevertheless acceptable in the circumstances of the engagement.

A7. There may be circumstances where a special purpose framework is based on a financial reporting framework established by an authorized or recognized standards setting organization or by law or regulation, but does not comply with all the requirements of that framework. An example is a contract that requires financial statements to be prepared in accordance with most, but not all, of the Financial Reporting Standards of Country X. When this is acceptable in the circumstances of the engagement, it is inappropriate for the description of the applicable financial reporting framework in the special purpose financial statements to imply full compliance with the financial reporting framework established by the authorized or recognized standards setting organization or by law or regulation. In the above example of the contract, the description of the applicable financial reporting framework may refer to the financial reporting provisions of the contract.
Considerations when Planning and Performing the Audit (Ref: Para. 11)

A8. [Proposed] ISA 200 (Revised and Redrafted) requires the auditor to comply with (a) relevant ethical requirements relating to an audit engagement, and (b) all ISAs relevant to the audit. It also requires the auditor to comply with the requirements of each of the relevant ISAs in all cases where the requirements are relevant to the audit unless, in exceptional circumstances, the auditor judges it necessary to depart from a relevant requirement by performing alternative audit procedures to achieve the aim of that requirement.

A9. Application of some of the requirements of the ISAs may require special consideration by the auditor. For example, in [proposed] ISA 320 (Revised and Redrafted), “Materiality in Planning and Performing an Audit” judgments about matters that are material to users of the financial statements are based on a consideration of the common financial information needs of users as a group. In the case of an audit of special purpose financial statements, however, those judgments are based on a consideration of the financial information needs of the specific users.

A10. In the case of special purpose financial statements prepared for a specific purpose, such as those prepared in accordance with the requirements of a contract, management may agree with the intended users on a threshold below which misstatements identified during the audit will not be corrected or otherwise adjusted. Although such a threshold may satisfy the financial information needs of the intended users for purposes of any adjustments that may arise, it may differ from the amount the auditor determines as a materiality level for purposes of the engagement in accordance with [proposed] ISA 320 (Revised and Redrafted).

A11. Communication with those charged with governance in accordance with the ISAs is based on the relationship between those charged with governance and the financial statements subject to audit, in particular whether those charged with governance are responsible for overseeing the preparation and presentation of those financial statements. In the case of special purpose financial statements prepared for a specific purpose, those charged with governance may not have such a responsibility; for example, when the special purpose financial statements are prepared solely for management’s use, or when the party engaging the auditor is not the entity responsible for the special purpose financial statements. In these cases, the requirements of [proposed] ISA 260 (Revised and Redrafted), “Communication with Those Charged with Governance” may not be relevant to the audit of the special purpose financial statements prepared for a specific purpose, except when the auditor is also responsible for the audit of the entity’s general purpose financial statements or, for example, has agreed with those charged with governance of the entity to communicate to them relevant matters identified during the audit of the special purpose financial statements prepared for a specific purpose.

Forming an Opinion and Reporting Considerations (Ref: Para. 12)

A12. Appendix 2 of this ISA contains illustrations of auditors’ reports on special purpose financial statements (see Illustrations 1-3).
Restriction on Use and Distribution (Ref: Para. 14)

A13. The special purpose financial statements and related auditor’s report may be used for purposes other than those for which they were intended. For example, a regulator may require certain entities to place the special purpose financial statements and related auditor’s report on public record. To avoid misunderstandings, the auditor alerts users of the auditor’s report that the financial statements are prepared in accordance with a special purpose framework and, therefore, may not be suitable for another purpose.

A14. The auditor may also consider including a statement in the auditor’s report that it is intended solely for the intended users, and should not be distributed to or used by other parties. Where this is the case, the heading referred to in paragraph 14 would read Other Matter – Restriction on Use and Distribution.

Audits of Specific Elements, Accounts or Items of a Financial Statement

Considerations when Accepting the Engagement (Ref: Para. 15-16)

A15. [Proposed] ISA 200 (Revised and Redrafted) requires the auditor to comply with (a) relevant ethical requirements relating to an audit engagement, and (b) all ISAs relevant to the audit. It also requires the auditor to comply with the requirements of each of the relevant ISAs in all cases where the requirements are relevant to the audit unless, in exceptional circumstances, the auditor judges it necessary to depart from a relevant requirement by performing alternative audit procedures to achieve the aim of that requirement.

A16. The relevance of each of the ISAs requires careful consideration. Even when only an element is the subject of the audit, ISAs such as ISA 240 (Redrafted), “The Auditor’s Responsibilities Relating to Fraud in an Audit of Financial Statements,” [proposed] ISA 550 (Revised and Redrafted), “Related Parties” and [proposed] ISA 570 (Redrafted), “Going Concern” are in principle relevant. This is because the element could be misstated as a result of fraud, the effect of related party transactions, or the incorrect application of the going concern assumption under the applicable financial reporting framework.

A17. As the ISAs are written in the context of financial statements, all relevant ISAs are to be adapted as necessary in the circumstances when applied to the audit of the element. For example, written representations from management about the financial statements as a whole might be replaced by written representations about the presentation of the element in accordance with the applicable financial reporting framework.

A18. Compliance with relevant requirements may not be practicable when the auditor is not also engaged to audit the entity’s financial statements. In such cases, the auditor often does not have the same understanding of the entity and its environment, including its internal control, as an auditor who also audits the entity’s financial statements. The auditor also does not have the audit evidence about the general quality of the accounting records or other accounting information that would be acquired in an audit of the entity’s financial statements. Accordingly, the auditor may need further evidence to corroborate audit evidence acquired from the accounting records. In some cases, certain ISAs require audit work that may be disproportionate to the element being audited. For example, although the requirements of [proposed] ISA 570 (Redrafted) are likely to be relevant in the circumstances of an audit of a schedule of accounts receivable, complying with those requirements may not be practicable because of the audit effort required. If the auditor concludes that an audit of the element in accordance with ISAs may not be practicable, the auditor may discuss with management whether another type of engagement might be more practicable.

Considerations when Planning and Performing the Audit (Ref: Para. 15)

A19. When auditing the element in conjunction with the audit of the entity’s financial statements, the auditor may be able to use audit evidence obtained as part of the audit of the entity’s financial statements in the audit of the element. ISAs, however, require the auditor to plan and perform the audit of the element to obtain sufficient appropriate audit evidence on which to base the opinion on the element.

A20. Many financial statement items are interrelated, and are presented with related explanatory notes. Accordingly, when auditing an element, the auditor may not be able to consider the element in isolation. Consequently, the auditor may need to perform procedures in relation to the interrelated items to meet the objective of an audit.

A21. Furthermore, the materiality level determined for the element may be lower than the materiality level or levels determined for the entity’s financial statements; this will affect the nature, timing and extent of the audit procedures.

A22. In the case of an element, it is important that management’s presentation of the element, in view of the specific requirements of the applicable financial reporting framework, provides adequate disclosures to enable the intended users to understand the effect of material transactions and events on the information conveyed in the element.

Reporting Considerations (Ref: Para. 17, 19)

A23. Unless otherwise required by law or regulation, in accordance with [proposed] ISA 200 (Revised and Redrafted) in conjunction with [proposed] ISA 700 (Redrafted), the opinion paragraph of the auditor’s report on an element states that the element gives a true and fair view or presents fairly, in all material respects, in accordance with the applicable financial reporting framework when that framework is a fair presentation framework. In all other cases, the auditor’s opinion states that the element is prepared, in all material respects, in accordance with the applicable financial reporting framework. Appendix 2 of this ISA contains an illustration of an auditor’s report on a specific account (see Illustration 4).

A24. When either a modified opinion on the entity’s financial statements or an Emphasis of Matter paragraph relates to the audited element, the auditor may conclude that it is necessary to modify the auditor’s report on the element in a similar manner. Even when a modified opinion on the entity’s financial statements or an Emphasis of Matter paragraph does not relate to the audited element, the auditor may still conclude that it is necessary to refer to the modified opinion or Emphasis of Matter in an Other Matter(s) paragraph in the auditor’s report on the element because it is important to the users’ understanding of the element (see [proposed] ISA 706 (Revised and Redrafted)).

A25. In accordance with [proposed] ISA 705 (Revised and Redrafted), if the auditor has expressed an adverse opinion or disclaimed an opinion on the entity’s financial statements as a whole, the auditor is not permitted to express an unmodified opinion on an element of those financial statements in the same auditor’s report and with respect to the same applicable financial reporting framework (referred to in [proposed] ISA 705 (Revised and Redrafted) as a “piecemeal opinion”). However, the auditor may be able to express an unmodified opinion on the element where that opinion is expressed in a separate auditor’s report. This is only possible if the element to be reported on and the related scope of the audit, including the additional procedures referred to in paragraph A20, were not intended to, and did not, encompass so many elements as to constitute a major portion of those financial statements.
Examples of Specific Elements, Accounts or Items of a Financial Statement

- Accounts receivable, allowance for doubtful accounts receivable, inventory, the liability for accrued benefits of a private pension plan, the recorded value of identified intangible assets, or the liability for “incurred but not reported” claims in an insurance portfolio, including related explanatory notes.

- A schedule of externally managed assets and income of a private pension plan, including related explanatory notes.

- A schedule of net tangible assets, including related explanatory notes.

- A schedule of disbursements in relation to a lease property, including related explanatory notes.

- A schedule of profit participation or employee bonuses, including related explanatory notes.

Circumstances include the following:

- Audit of a complete set of financial statements.
- The financial statements have been prepared by the management of the entity in accordance with the financial reporting provisions of a contract (i.e., a special purpose framework, but which is not a fair presentation framework) to comply with the provisions of that contract (i.e., a specific purpose). Management does not have a choice of financial reporting frameworks.
