11 USE OF THE DESCRIPTION 'CHARTERED ACCOUNTANT'

To be read in conjunction with the regulations, standards and guidance found at icaew.com/regulations > practice management > use of description 'Chartered Accountants' and helpsheet 11, Use of the description chartered accountants, which explains the conditions and restrictions governing the use of the title.

Introduction

The regulations governing the use of the description 'chartered accountants' prescribe the conditions which firms that are not wholly comprised of chartered accountants must fulfil if they want to use the description 'chartered accountants'.

Practice descriptions

A company may use the description 'chartered accountants' if, on a head count, at least 50% of the directors are members of ICAEW or of the other bodies specified below and, for both unincorporated and corporate practices, more than 50% of shareholding or the management/voting control of the firm is in the hands of chartered accountants from bodies specified below, or held by another ICAEW member firm.

For example, in a company with four directors, two of the directors must be chartered accountants and chartered accountants must also own more than 50% of the nominal value of the company's voting and non-voting shares (if applicable). In a partnership, more than 50% of the rights to vote at partnership meetings must be held by chartered accountants or by another ICAEW member firm. Firms not meeting one of these criteria may apply for a dispensation under regulations 7–14.

The term 'chartered accountant' means a member of ICAEW or one of the following bodies:

The Institute of Chartered Accountants of Scotland
Chartered Accountants Ireland
The Institute of Chartered Accountants in Australia
The Canadian Institute of Chartered Accountants
The South African Institute of Chartered Accountants
The Institute of Chartered Accountants of Zimbabwe
The Institute of Chartered Accountants of New Zealand.

Non-members

Non-member principals who are not already affiliates under ICAEW's DPB arrangements, Audit Regulations, Local Audit Regulations, Probate Regulations or Insolvency Licensing Regulations have to submit an application for general affiliate status and provide an undertaking (in accordance with section 5 of this form) binding themselves to observe ICAEW's bye-laws, ethical code, and regulations. Responsibility for filling in this application and form of undertaking rests with the practice. The practice should notify ICAEW of any subsequent changes to its structure.

The ICAEW staff responsible for considering the application for general affiliate status will need to be satisfied that:

- a. the applicant is, or has been offered the position of, a principal in a practice;
- b. the applicant is a fit and proper person and is certified by at least two members;
- c. the applicant has completed a form of undertaking; and
- d. the applicant is able to demonstrate appropriate and relevant experience of accountancy or of a related discipline or holds one or more qualifications as specified in regulation 21c.

A person recognised as a general affiliate does not have any right to use the designatory letters ACA or FCA.

Fit and proper

In brief, under regulation 21c, the non-member seeking affiliate status will be presumed not to be a fit and proper person if they:

- a. are, or have been, formally insolvent, individually or as a partner;
- b. are a partner in a firm which is or has been formally insolvent;
- c. are a director of a body corporate engaged in public practice which is, or has been, formally insolvent;
- d. have been subject to an adverse disciplinary finding by a professional or regulatory body;
- e. have been removed from an insolvency appointment on the grounds of misconduct;
- f. have been disqualified as a company director;
- g. have intentionally infringed legislation in relation to the conduct of an insolvency as (or as proposed as) an office-holder; or
- h. have pleaded guilty to, or been found guilty of, any indictable offence.

General affiliates under previous regulations

Non-members who were affiliates by virtue of the 1991 regulations (and subsequent amendments) do not need to reapply and will continue to be regarded as affiliates as long as they are subject to the regulations.

Letterheads

Any practice that does not wholly comprise chartered accountants must ensure that its letterhead is not misleading. In particular, chartered accountants should be distinguished from non-chartered accountants by the use of designatory letters or otherwise. For full details on the names and letterheads of practising firms, please refer to icaew.com/regulations > practice management > names and letterheads of practising firms and helpsheet 6, Practice Names and Letterheads.

Qualifications and experience

Members of international chartered accountancy bodies should state in full the country of origin of their qualification, for example, CA (South Africa), ACA (Australia).

An individual applicant for general affiliate status who is a director in a member firm comprising only two directors and incorporated in the Isle of Man does not have to demonstrate appropriate and relevant accountancy (or other related discipline) experience or qualifications.
