COOPERS & LYBRAND

The purpose of this series, compiled by Peter Boys, is primarily to show how firms’ names have evolved and how and when well-known names disappeared. For further details see ACCOUNTANCY, January, p 100.

Notes
1. Edward Carter was a member of the first Council of the ICAEW.
2. David Chadwick was the first president of the Manchester Institute of Accountants (1871) and was a member of the first Council of the ICAEW.
3. Arthur Cooper was a member of the first Council of the ICAEW and its president 1883-84. His brother, Ernest Cooper was president of the ICAEW 1899-1901.
4. McDonald Currie & Co, Canada (founded 1910) and other firms also adopted the name Coopers & Lybrand in 1973 as members of Coopers & Lybrand (International), an international association of firms.

Sources
A history of the Cooper Brothers & Co 1854-1954.

ICA EW List of Members 1881–1898. Information supplied by Coopers & Lybrand.